AGREE. Out of ten thousand regular physicians you cannot find one who will not say that Stimulants and Invigorants are absolutely necessary in medical practice. And yet in by-gone years humane practitioners have hesitated to administer them, because the flendish ingenuity of wretches who make merchandise of human infirmities, had so polluted and deteriorated them that the remedy was deemed as dangerous as the disease. This perplexity is happily done away with. Physicians know, because the first analytical chemists of the age have demonstrated the fact, that HOSTETTER'S CELE-BRATED STOMACH BITTERS are absolutely and entirely free from all pernicious elements. Hence they have been introduced into the United States Army, and are accepted, whereon the testimony of the wise, the intelligent and the philanthropic is rated at its just value, as the best protective against and cure for all diseases arising from impurity in the air or other unhealthy climate influences, that has ever been tested by experience. In cases of Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint, we state without qualification or reservation, that the Bitters are as nearly infallible as anything prepared by human skill can be.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

THE LATE PRESIDENT'S FAMILY. Proposed Subscription for their Benefit-Farm and Mansion to be Purchased.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5 .- A subscription has been started here for raising funds to be applied to the purchase of a farm-homestead, with an appropriate mansion, near Springfield, Illinois, for the family of President Lin-coln. It is intended to be a tribute from a grateful people to the merits of their beloved martyred President, by which his family may be rendered independent and his memory perpetuated in a practical and useful manner Individual subscriptions are not to exceed five dollars, the money to be enclosed to Jay Cooke & Co, or any of their loan agents, to be publicly reported. The fund is to be disposed of by Senator Harlan, Secretary of the Interior, and Joseph H. Barrett, Commissioner of Pensions. It is proposed that subscriptions for this object be taken up in the churches and elsewhere throughout the country, with the name of the donor on a slip of paper, to accompany the amount subscribed.

THE PRESIDENT'S MURDER. A Letter from W. C. Cleary-He Denies

all Knowledge of the Plot-Saunders and Beverly Tucker Again Heard from. TORONTO, C. W., May 4.-William C. Cleary one of the parties for whom President Johnson offers a reward, publishes a letter that there is not a particle of truth in the statement that he concerted or incited the assassination of President Lincoln, and he asserts that he knew nothing whatever of it till it had been

The Manifesto of Saunders and Tucker. MONTREAL, May 5 .- George N. Saunders and Beverly Tucker are out with another manifesto to-day, addressed to Andrew Johnson, in which they accuse him of a hellish plot to murder their Christian President, but give no particulars. They agree to go to Rouse's Point or some other place, and be tried on the charge made in the President's recent proclamation, if the United States Government will pay for their defence and guarantee their safety.

FROM CALIFORNIA. Arrest of Assassin Sympathizers - Movements of the People on the National

Loss. San Francisco, May 2.—The municipal election in Los Angelos to-day resulted in the election of the entire Union ticket. This place has always heretofore been a strong secession sympathizing district.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3 .- General McDowell is moving several companies of troops for the protection of the land routes to Idaho, along which the Indians are troublesome. Several more arrests have been made of persons in this State and Nevada, for rejoicing at the death of the President. A considerable number of these flends are under duress at Fort Alcatraz.

A movement has been started here for dollar subscriptions to a fund for a testimonial to Mrs. Lincoln. It is also proposed to build a monument to Mr. Lincoln's memory.

New York Gold and Stock Market. New York. May 5.—At the evening board gold was 142%; Erie, 59%; Hudson, 110; Reading, 101; Cumberland 47%. Market weak and

[From the N. Y. Commercial, May 5th.] The market for securities is dull and unsettled. At the morning board prices were generally weaker, with no disposition to operate largely for either a rise or a fall. The "bears" continue to hammer the market, but with no further success than checking the tendency toward higher prices.

Governments are quiet, pending the absence of news from Europe. The general expectation favors an ultimate material advance. though it is thought possible that the news of the President's assassination may produce there a temporary sharp downward turn in the price of five-twenties. Gold continues strong at about 143. The expectation of a reaction in American financial affairs in Europe, on the news of the assassination conspiracy, is the chief cause of the strength. Money is in ample supply, and without change in rates. The quotation on call loans is 4 x a5 per cent. On business paper the lowest rate is 6 per cent.; the prevailing rates being 6% a7 per cent. Fereign exchange continues dull, chiefly from the indisposition to pay the present high rates. The leading drawers are asking 110 for 60 days sterling, but without effecting any important sales. Sterling is very scarce. Francs are quoted 5.11 4a5.11%, with light transactions. The N. Y. Post says: As to the future course of government and railroad securities there is much diversity of opinion. It is supposed by some that as the rise from the lowest prices of April has been considerable, it is natural to expect a downward reaction, especially as the bears, who have heavy contracts falling due during the next ten days, will find it to their interest to depress the market to the utmost of their power. Others, however, claim that as money seems likely to continue easy, and the financial affairs of the country show gratifying indications of improvement and increasing prosperity, an impulse will be given to all departments of mercantile, manufacturing and commercial enterprise, and thus an impulse will be given to speculation and an upward tendency to all sound dividend paying securities. The Boston Traveller of the 4th says: There is a large amount of idle money in the market, which is freely offered to borrowers on call, at six, and in some cases at five per cent. The currency loan is absorbing a good deal of it, which is held by the national banks, subject to draft from the Treasury, when required for the public service. Prime paper continues scarce, and some of the best notes are taken in the street at seven per cent. The stock market is pretty firm, but without animation. The Rebel Leaders.

The antecedents of the rebel leaders, for which President Johnson has offered a reward. ought to be familiar to the public. Jacob Thompson was for several years a member of the United States Congress from Mississippi, and Secretary of the Interior Department during the greater part of Mr. Buchanan's administration. He resigned when his State seceded, and on the inauguration of hostilities accepted military service. He was for nearly two years in command of a regiment, and subsequently became Inspector General for the Department of Mississippi. For a year past he has served the Confederates in a diplomatic capacity. Clement C. Clay was formerly Sen-ator in the United States Congress from Alabama, and since the war served in the Confed. erate Congress in a similar capacity, excepting the past ten months, spent in Canada. George N. Sanders, a noted politician, and Naval Agent for the port of New York under Mr. Buchanan, is a native of Kentucky, and was a great friend of Senator Douglas. He entered into an agreement, in 1862, to furnish the Confederate Government with six iron clads, to be built in England. Sanders made his way through the North to Canada, disguised as a Cornishman. The Confederate Government, however, annulled the contract with Mr. Sanders, who subsequently returned to Canada. He projected the peace negotiation which resulted in the issuance of Mr. Lincoln's proclamation, "To whom it may concern." Beverly Tucker is a Virginian, published the Sentinei newspaper in Washington in 1850, and was Consul to Liverpool from 1856 to 1850. Wm. C. Cleary, Secretary of Mr. Clay, is from Harrison County, Ky, and fled from that State to the South in 1861. He was the leading Democratic member of the Kentucky Legislature in the session of 1860 and 1861.

THE TRAVEL TO VIRGINIA .- The Bay line of steamers are crowded every afternoon with parties visiting Fortress Monroe, Richmond, Petersburg and all the counties adjacent to those places. Many go to satisfy curiosity and for pleasure, while the larger portion go with a view to business, either to re-establish old agencies, renew business correspondence, es-tablish branch houses, &c. Some, however, are on the mournful business of discovering the remains of lost relatives or friends, or, il possible, ascertaining their whereabouts if alive, and others have permits to bring to their own homes, if able to withstand the journey, own homes, if able to withstand the journey, the sick or wounded relatives. The travel to Western Virginia and to the counties in the Valley of Virginia, per the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, has also been quite extensive since all the restrictions have been removed.— Baltimore Sun.

LATEST FROM RICHMOND. We glean the following from the Richmond

Whig of yesterday: THE ARREST OF THE EXCLANGE COMMISSIONERS of the late Confederate Government was noticed yesterday. Lieut. Col. Hatch, it appears, was arrested upon an order from Washington, and had an examination before Maj. Gen. Ord, who heard the evidence and discharged him. The charge, as we understand it, was mal-appropriation of funds sent to Richmond from the North for the relief of Federal prisoners of war. Subsequently, Hatch was rearrested upon another order from Washington, recommitted to the Libby, and his dwelling, papers and effects taken in charge by the Provost Marshal. Report says about $26,000 in green-backs, a considerable sum in gold, and a large amount in Confederate money was found in his house and turned over to Brig. Gen. John E. Mulford, Federal Agent of Exchange. Commissioner Ould is still in the Libby, on charges affecting his integrity as Agent of Exchange.

THE SCHOOLS of this city, public and private, have been generally re-opened under the order of Gen. Ord, and well attended. The schools for colored children, of which there are four or five in operation, are also in a flourishing condition.

THE CITY MARKETS exhibit a steady and gradual improvement, with everything in abundance. Fine shad were to be had for 50 cents per pair. Fish were cheaper. Hams sold at 30 cents per pound-the same at which they are quoted in the Northern markets.

THE SIDBWALKS throughout the burnt district are nearly as free now from obstruction as they were before the ruins blocked them up. This clearing up has been accomplished through the energy of the military authorities, who set the idle negroes to work immediately upon the occupation of the city.

Col. Moore N. Falls, of Baltimore, President of the Bay Line of Steamers Company, was in Richmond yesterday, completing arrangements for the running of the new line of steamers between this port and Baltimore. Col. Falls is also looking after his own and other stockholders' interests in the Seaboard and Roanoke and other railroads in Virginia. Samuel Shoemaker, Esq., the Baltimore agent of Adams Express Company, was also in the city on business connected with the re-establishment of the express line South. He also represents an interest in several of the rail-

Col. Robert B. Coleman, of the Eutaw House, Baltimore, has been in the city several days, looking round among the hetels with an eye to the prospective assumption of the control of one of them.

We learn that the Directors of the Philadelphia, Richmond and Norfolk Steamship Company, which withdrew its vessels at the breaking out of the war, have resolved to commence operations again. New steamships are in course of construction, and the trips between Philadelphia and this city will probably be resumed about the 1st day of July. The order of the Secretary of War prohibiting civilians from taking passage on any of the of steamers to accommodate the traveling The latest proposition looks to the establishment of a new line of steamers between Washington and Richmond, and a number of prom

Government mail boats, except upon a special order, has had the effect of stirring up private enterprise, and the good effect has been apparent in the establishment of several new lines inent Northern ship owners are in counsel over the proposition. One of the greatest wants of Richmond always has been want of room and expansion. Richmond to-day is in small clothes, not the capacious business suit of other Northern cities. To-day, dwellings for families of moderate means are so scarce that there cannot be found one to rent in the whole city. Capitalists would render a lasting benefit to the city if they could be induced to break the bonds of this "pent-up Utica," and build in Sidney, and other suburban points, residences of modern pretensions, but commodious and respectable enough to invite to their occupancy the middling class of the population.

The Petersburg Railroad is running daily, cars starting from the south side of the river, which is reached by the pontoon bridge. The 2d and 5th corps of the Army of the Potomac, Lieut Gen. Meade, have arrived in the remaining corps. THE CAPTURE OF MACON. Howell Cobb Admits Rebel Subjugation. A correspondent with Wilson's raiders gives the following particulars of the capture of Macon: After skirmishing all day on the 21st instant, with a force of rebels in front, we were met fourteen miles outside of Macon by a flag of truce and a message from General Howell Cobb, saying that an armistice had been agreed upon between General Sherman and Johnston for a suspension of hostilities, with a view to a final settlement of our difficulties. The message was received by Colonel Minty, commanding the 2d division, General Wilson at the time being several miles in the rear. Colonel Minty regarded the message as a ruse for the purpose of stopping our advance until reinforcements could reach them, and consequently sent the following reply: HEADQUARTERS, C. C., IN FIELD, NEAR MA-CON, GA., April 20, 1865.—General: I have received the despatch from General Cobb, and have sent it by special messenger to Major Gen. Wilson, a few miles in my rear. As there may be some delay in receiving an answer, it is necessary for you to return immediately to Macon, to which place General Wilson's re-ply will be forwarded. I have directed the officer commanding my advance to move forward in five minutes after this is handed to you. Yours, truly,

R. H. G. MINTY, Commanding Second Division. Brigadier General Robertson, C. S. A. The advance upon Macon was made as directed, and, as General Robertson and his escort did not get out of the way, they were all captured, and we took possession of Macon. Here Gen. Wilson received official informa tion of the existing armistice, and the army have gone into quarters, to remain until further orders are received. There seems to be a prevailing opinion here that the war is over, and I have yet to see the first citizen who regrets it in the least. Board here has been forty dollars per day, and every other necessary in proportion. I had quite an excited conversion to-day with Gen. Cobb, who has been one of the most uncompromising secessionists in the South, and he expressed his opinion fully that the South was thoroughly subjugated. THE EASTERN AND WESTERN SHORE .- The removal of all restrictions to travel and trade with the Eastern and Western Shores of Maryland, the Eastern Shore counties of Virginia, and the lower counties of the State of Delaware, has made quite a decided change in the appearance of the harbor, so far as the coast and bay vessels are concerned. Vessels are now running to all places in the various counties referred to, that were landing points previous to the war, and all the steamboat lines are being renewed, together with those that have been established in the past four years. Yesterday afternoon the harbor presented quite a cheerful aspect, in a business point of view, and storekeepers were congratulating each other upon the prospect of a renewal of a steady and brisk business.-Balticoln's early political career, and the unsur-passed purity and wisdom of his management of the treasury, army and navy, the Bishop concludes with the following noble sentiments:

"Abraham Lincoln was a good man. He was known as an honest, temperate, forgiving man, a just man, a man of noble heart in every way. As to his religious experience I cannot speak definitely, because I was not privileged. to know much of his private sentiments. My acquaintance with him did not give me the opportunity to hear him speak on this topic. I know, however, he read the Bible frequently; loved it for its great truths and for its profound teachings; and he tried to be guided by its precepts. He believed in Christ, the Saviour of Sinners, and I think he was sincerely trying to bring his life into the principles of revealed religion. Certainly, if there ever was a man who illustrated some of the principles of pure

After reviewing at length President Lin-

It is a matter of regret that lack of space will not admit the full publication in our religion, that man was our departed Presi-"In his domestic life he was exceedingly kind and affectionate. He was a devoted husband and father During his Presidential term he lost his second son, Willie. To an officer of the army he said, not long since:-"Do you ever find yourself talking with the dead?" and added, "Since Willie's death I catch myself every day involuntarily talking with him, as if he were with me." "On his widow, who is unable to be here, I need only invoke the blessing of Almighty God that she may be comforted and sustained. For his son, who has witnessed the exercises of this hour, all that I can desire is that the mantle of his father may fall upon him. [Exclamations of "Amen." "Beside the goodness of such a man, his fame was full, his work was done, and he sealed his glory by becoming the nation's great martyr for liberty. He appears to have had a strange presentiment early in political life, that some day he would be President. You see it, indeed, in 1839. Of the slave power he said, "Broken by it? I, too, may be asked to bow to it. I never will. The probability that we may fail in the struggle ought not to deter us from the support a cause which I deem to be just

"It shall not determe, if I ever feel the soul within me elevate and expand to these dimensions, not wholly unworthy of its Almighty architect. It is when I contemplate the cause of my country deserted by all the world beside, and I standing up boldly and clone, and hurling defiance at her vicarious oppressors. Here, without contemplating consequences, before high Heaven and in the face of the world, I swear eternal fidelity to the just cause, as I deem it, of the land, of my life, my liberty, and my love; and yet, secretly, he said to more than one: 'I never shall live out the 4 years of my term. When the rebellion is crushed my work is done.'

"And now, my friends, in the words of the departed, "with malice toward none," free from. all feeling of personal vengeance, yet believing the sword must not be drawn in vain, let us go forward in our painful duty. Let every man who was a Senator or Representative in Con-gress, and who aided in beginning this rebellion, and thus led to the slaughter of our sons and daughters, be brought to speedy and certain punishment. Let every officer, educated at public expense, and who, having been advanced to position, has perjured himself and turned his sword against the vitals of his country, be doomed to this.

"I believe in the will of the American people. Men may attempt to compromise and to restore these traitors and murderers to society again, but the American people will arise in their majesty and sweep all such compromises and compromisors away, and will declare that there shall be no peace to rebels; but to the de-luded masses we shall extend arms of forgiveness. We will take them to our hearts and walk with them side by side, as we go forward to work out a glorious destiny. The time will come when, in the beautiful words of him whose lips are now forever closed: mystic cords of memory, which stretch from every battle field and from every patriot's grave, shall yield a sweeter music when touched by the angels of our better nature."

Ho! for Mexico.

MYSTERIOUS EMIGRATION MOVEMENT-WHAT'S IN THE WIND! It is very evident that the valuable region of country known as Mexico occupies a very considerable share of attention. Several organizations are being perfected in this city all apparently acting under one head.

There is much mystery connected with the movement, but the idea of the Monroe doctrine seems to be decidedly popular. Even some of the detectives who have been in Mexico, are rather shy in conversation on the subject, but they would be "delighted to visit that place once more." All they say is, the movement is a "big thing," and "sufficient to-day is the evil thereof." This is equivocal language, but accompanied with sly winks, nods, &c., may be considered significant of something not desirable at the present time to be made public. We hear of parties who desire to visit Mexico by water, instead of overland. Seventy men, who have seen sea and naval service, are already organized, and the commander is a gentleman truly loyal, once in the service stationed in foreign waters. It is also hinted that vessels are being or will be fitted out at Baltimore and manned by hardy crews. Our large cities are now over populated, and as it is likely the number will be swelled to an almost indefinite extent in a few months, it is thought proper by the enterprising gentlemen engaged in the emigrant movement to prepare an outlet at once through which the tide of population may readily flow. Incident to this movement, there will be quite a demand for some of the United States vessels, to be sold to the highest bidder, in a short time.—Philadelphia Press.

JEFF DAVIS' SPECIE LOST .- Col. Clark, of the Rebel army, who was captured by one of our scouting parties while endeavoring to escape from Richmond on one of the last trains from the doomed city, asserts that he was in charge of all the specie which was removed from Richmond; that when his train broke down, and he found it impossible to get it on the track and off again, and seeing our forces approaching, he ordered it set on fire, and that all his efforts to save the specie was unavailing; that the soldiers broke open the kegs, and amid the excitement and tumult, soldiers and citizens appropriated all there was. He asserts that he knows that no other amounts of specie not in the pockets of its owners were taken from Richmond, and that this lot was all stolen. He states further, that the amount has been vastly over-estimated, and confirms the statement heretotore made by Gen. Grant, that it amounted to only about $200,000. Col. Clark. was an old regular army officer previous to the breaking out of the war, and is a near relative to one of our most distinguished naval officers, to whom he communicated the above statements. NEW YORK PAID FIRE DEPARTMENT .- An injunction has been granted to restrain the new Board of Fire Commissioners of New York, appointed under the proposed paid system, from taking possession of the property of the voluntary fire department. The volunteer department is determined to hold on to the property until it is legally dispossessed. At-torney General Cochrane declares that the law creating the new board is unconstitutional.
